

State FFA CDE Livestock Judging Guidelines

Date of Contest: Friday Nov. 3rd , 2017

Time: 9:00 AM, promptly

Place: UConn Cattle Research Unit (CRU)

Contest Superintendent: Lauren Bospuda LBospuda@trumbullps.org
203-452-4202

Contest Assistant: Rachel Holden

UConn Contact: Dr. Safran, Mary Margaret Cole

Publication for Reference:

Modern Livestock and Poultry Production

By: James Gillespie

Contest Format:

1. General Knowledge Test: 50 Questions all Multiple Choice

2017-Sheep

2018- Swine

2019- Beef

NOTE: The National Contest "test" covers all species

2. Individual Judging: 6 classes, two each of beef, sheep and swine

There will be two reasons classes: one breeding and one market

Reason classes will be 15 minutes long. Non-reason classes will be 12 minutes long.

3. There will be a keep/cull class consisting of 8 animals with the ranking of 4 animals (only 1-4 ranked)

4. Team event: evaluation of sheep production records.

Contest Rules:

- Absolutely no electronic devices allowed during the contest. Cell phones should be turned off.
- Each School is allowed four contestants with all four scores being totaled to make up the team score.
- The individual written test scores are added to each contestant's total score for the team total score.
- Official Dress is recommended including boots
- Dress in layers and for all types of weather.....the show must go on!!! Boots advised!
- Bring a lunch / water

- Bring EXTRA writing utensils.....more than one pencil
- Teachers / coaches.....Bring clipboards and extra pencils
- There is no talking during the contest.....this could lead to a student being excused from the contest.
- Please have students prepared for the contest with at least three prior practices.
- Please advise students to be waiting by their appropriate reasons room with two people ahead of them. EX: “one who is next, one on deck and one in the hole”.
- Please volunteer, or send a volunteer, to help monitor classes and to move students to appropriate reasons rooms.
- All the CAAE CDE rules apply to this contest.